Re: Debbie Faremouth

Dear Mr. Haragely;

There are a few times in a consumers life that we get the opportunity to work with real, true professionals, and when we do we know they need to be recognized for the traits that set them apart from all others.

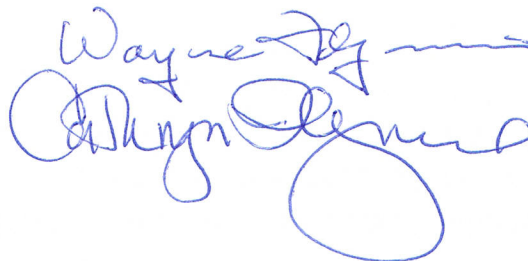

I am talking about Debbie Faremouth, she is wonderful and honest and sets the bar for honesty and integrity. You are so fortunate to have someone of that caliber associated with your office.

In record time and with out fail she sold our home, and finalized the purchase of our dream home, in an economy that says...." no way...no how".. and a month + later she is still assisting and answering questions and lending her expertise. She knew everyday what was happening with the lenders, the escrow, the sellers and the other agents involved, she worked late and she worked early. There was never a day that we were not happy and satisfied with the level of commitment she delivered.

We hope that you recognize her talent and dedication, we certainly do!

With respect and wishes for a successful New Year,

Wayne and Cathryn Flynn
